Aspire to "Inspire"

Ask yourself. Who am I? What do I believe in? What are my limits? What are my expectations? What do I stand for?

"If you stand for nothing, You will fall for anything"

Meet the "Staff"

Hi, my name is Richard Bennett. I am the Founder of ABT. I love to Golf. But not more than I love to motive people in general. I am affective in my purpose because I speak from my process and not my now. We must train up our youth in the way they should go and nowhere we have been.

Hi, my name is Jessica Bennett Administrator of ABT. I enjoy working my travel business. But my purpose is to empower young women to live up to their true potential. Also, to help them identify the greatness that God has place over their life.

Hi, my name is Felecia Young, Assist. Admin. of ABT. I enjoy being a mom. And my passion & purpose is to motivate and encourage young people to look beyond their past and fulfill the destiny that is promised. I believe that you must forgive as God has forgiven us.

"Student" of the Quarter

Hi, my name is Shay Williams. I am a student at Howard High School of Academics & Technology.... I enjoy helping and meeting new people. I love to attend church. Currently, myself and fellow classmates have implemented a prayer group at our school. My goal is to be the first person in her family to attend college. I plan to major in Psychology at UTC.

"Shay is such an awesome young lady that is coming into a new understanding about herself and her future"

Inside the "Schools"

Each School and Youth group has its' own identity and necessity. But, the one thing they have in common is the "need" of are Mentors.

Someone that is not judgmental but "understanding". Someone that will "listen" and not always talk. Someone that will show "compassion" instead of rejection.

We must train-up our Youth to be our future. They need individuals that are willing to sacrifice for them and them that they are worth living out their Purpose.
